Sustainability and competence: Then and now

Sustainability and a conscientious approach are key components of our corporate philosophy and form the basis for our successful spectrum of products and services. It is not for nothing that Sarasin can look back on more than 20 years' experience as a pioneer and market leader in the sphere of sustainable investing. Together with our comprehensive expertise and impressive track record in asset management, this is what enables us to fulfill the demands of our sophisticated and future-oriented client base.

Professional and client-focused: In big things as well as small

On the one hand, our investment decisions are underpinned by considerations that take into account crucial aspects of a sustainable future, i.e. a future that can be sustained from an environmental and social perspective. This enables risks to be avoided and opportunities to be seized on behalf of our clients. On the other hand, our investment decisions are also based on the comprehensive appraisals of our interdisciplinary Research Teams, which have their fingers on the pulse of the market and include specialists in the spheres of sustainable, macroeconomic, fundamental and technical analysis. Their recommendations are implemented by our investment professionals in a needs-oriented and transparent way.

Choosing Sarasin means choosing a sustainable, professional and solution-oriented asset management service of the very highest quality.
